

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR

Doris Cox is the artist of the beautiful paintings used in the ALPHA & OMEGA collection that takes the reader on a journey throughout the Old and New Testaments. When the writer discovered the pictures on a hallway wall at University Hts. Baptist Church in Springfield, Missouri, she immediately fell in love with the beautiful colors and manner in which the subject matter was depicted.

Doris, a retired elementary school teacher, has been blessed with tremendous artistic ability and uses it for the glory of God. She is a graduate of Missouri State University (known then as S.M. S) and is now enjoying retirement in Springfield with her husband, John. Doris and John are the proud parents of three children, Theresa, Janie and John L.
